

"I treat people as people, not just focusing on the body, but also on the mind and the spirit."

Craig DeLisi, M.D.

A doctor with a passion for helping people.

Family practice physician Craig DeLisi believes that his role as a doctor is more than a title. "For me, medicine is a ministry. It's about getting to know people in their lives and getting to help them with their struggles. It's very fulfilling to have a chance to care for people in that way."

Dr. DeLisi received top grades while attending medical school and scored in the 99th percentile on his board exam. He has completed numerous medical missions focusing on under-served inner city areas in the United States, and now looks forward to serving the Pittsburg community.

Dr. DeLisi's dedication to his profession is typical of the elite group of doctors he joined when he came to ETMC. ETMC First Physicians are specialists in a variety of medical disciplines who share a commitment to putting patients first.
